

Ashtons

Branding, brochure, stationery, advertising, & more...

Ashtons are an estate agency based in the South East of England. We have worked with them over the past four years on all aspects of their design requirements.

After initially coming to Frontmedia to redesign their website, they discovered that we could offer them a complete design service both in print and online. By having a complete design service they could ensure consistency of brand across all media types; from their website and HTML email templates to property brochures and advertising. They even had the confidence to let us overhaul their shop frontages!

“The new brochures look superb. Ever so pleased to say that shop fronts are finished too and looking 1000% better - way more than I had even hoped for in terms of design and finish. The lighting at Harpenden is brilliant at night. Perfect.

Once again - thanks for a superb effort all round from your team.”
