

World Architecture Festival

Following a three-way pitch, Frontmedia were successful in winning the bid to create the brand new World Architectural Festival (WAF) website.

Studio Myerscough had provided a complete set of brand guidelines for the festival, so it was up to us to ensure they were applied effectively to an event website with extensive database functionality, without losing the playful tone of the original graphics. All the design and functionality had to be originated in around three weeks. Did we manage it? Well, yes (as you no doubt correctly guessed).

“I love Frontmedia’s “can do attitude”. They offer a great service, fast turnaround and design is always of a high quality. Their CMS system is great and easy to use.

This is why 8 out of 10 cats prefer Frontmedia ;-)”
