Branding, brochures, advertising & website

Purves Philatelics

For all your Commonwealth British philatelic requirements (1840-1970)

Purves Philatelics specialise in British Commonwealth stamps from 1840 – 1980 and if they are very much your stamp-based thing, then you'll know Purves not only for the quality of their stock, but also for the excellence of their new website, logo and stationery as designed by our good selves.

They have been a client of ours since we first created their website back in 2005. Since then we have designed many items for them from mouse mats to adverts. In 2010 this culminated in a total rebrand. A new logo was created, along with a new palette of colours and styling. The colours may still be claret and blue (a nod to WHFC) but they are more muted reflecting the era of the subject matter in hand.

Take a look at www.purvesphilatelics.co.uk, you might just want to dust-down that old album.
