

Remote Controlled Lighting Ltd Promotional magazine

Remote Controlled Lighting has enabled some of the biggest hotels, museums and galleries in the world to say goodbye to scrambling up the scaffolding to adjust the lighting (as well as the health and safety claims that come with it).

They asked us to produce a magazine to sell the concept 'Dramatic lighting without the drama' to prospective clients. We came up with a glossy little number that showcases projects, products and testimonials; really putting them in the spotlight.

Hopefully it will add some more clients to their already impressive list including Hilton Hotels, the British Museum, Tate Britain and Savoy Hotel.

