

Is your life just one long, tedious round of helicopter trips and motor yachting to exotic destinations? Neither is ours, but if you ever found yourself in need of such high-end fripperies, Winged Bee can sort you out. Initially formed to provide bespoke chauffeur services for discerning individual and corporate clients, Winged Bee have moved on from mere cars to agreeably luxurious helicopters and yachts.

Frontmedia delivered a sleek XML-driven flash site that was smooth and elegant enough to match the quality of our clients service, whilst emphasising their luxury brand values. We also designed the logotype and corporate literature to ensure the brands cross-media consistency.
